

WOMEN NOW HAVE SUFFRAGE IN ELEVEN STATES AND ALASKA

In Twenty-Two Other States Women Have Right to Vote for Certain Officers

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Women now have full suffrage in eleven states and in the territory of Alaska, according to latest returns tonight from Tuesday's election, which apparently gave the franchise to women in Nevada and Montana.

Late tabulation of the vote on equal suffrage in Nevada and Montana did not upset the lead previously recorded in favor of the women, but rural and mountainous counties had not reported. These missing precincts probably will not overturn the 1,300 vote lead in Montana, or the lead of 3,500 in Nevada.

In addition to the eleven states now listed as granting full franchise to women, they have the right to vote for certain officers in twenty-two other states. In Illinois, one of the twenty-two, women may vote for all statutory offices, including presidential electors.

The eleven female suffrage states, with the time of granting the franchise, are: Wyoming, 1890; Colorado, 1893; Utah, 1896; Idaho, 1896; Washington, 1910; California, 1911; Arizona, 1912; Kansas, 1912; Oregon, 1912; Nevada, 1914; Montana, 1914.

Another Drop in Sugar Prices.

New York, Nov. 5.—Sugar prices today were quoted down forty cents on the hundred pounds, refined selling at five cents a pound, the lowest since July. In August under the impetus of large English buying prices rose to $8.50 a hundred pounds, but turned down early in September and now are only slightly higher than they were previous to the war.

A year ago the New York price for granulated sugar was $4.35 a hundred pounds.

FEEDING FOR EGG PRODUCTION

Egg production depends largely on proper feeding. Rations for farm poultry flocks can generally be criticized, first, because they contain little ground food and, second, because animal food is usually lacking. These two faults can easily be corrected. By feeding ground grains in addition to the whole grains and by supplying animal food in the form of sour skim milk or buttermilk, the feed cost for a dozen eggs can be materially reduced.

A good grain ration for winter use is made by mixing 60 pounds of corn with 30 pounds of wheat. For summer mix 60 pounds of wheat with 30 pounds of corn.

In addition to the corn and wheat the following mixture of ground food is excellent: Bran 2 pounds; corn meal 2 pounds; middlings 2 pounds; beef scrap 1 pound. This mixture can be fed dry in hoppers which should be kept open during the afternoon only.

Ground oats are good to use as a dry mash, either alone or mixed with other ground feeds. If available give buttermilk or sour skim milk as a drink. The fowls should get about one-half as much mash as grain food. About twice as much grain should be fed at night as in the morning. At night feed all that the birds will eat. During the day keep the hens scratching in straw litter a foot deep. This litter should be free from molds.

Supplement the above ration with green food such as beets, cabbage, sprouted oats, fine silage, etc. Grit oyster shell or crushed limestone should be available at all times. Feed only clean feed and supply plenty of clean, fresh water.
